SUPPLEMENT TO REPORT NO.

1. Liaison between Slav Communists in southern Paraguay and Buenos Aires appears permanent, and some of the younger members of the Communist Party travel constantly between Encarnacion and Buenos Aires as couriers. The following orders have been received from Buenos Aires:
 - a. Intensify work amongst the natives in southern Paraguay.
 - b. Organize the Slav and native youth. For this purpose a dance club is being organized in Encarnacion to disguise Communist youth activity from the police.
 - c. Transfer many active Slav Communists to Buenos Aires. The Pavlik brothers, Boleslaw and Victor, important Communist leaders in the Encarnacion area, have moved to Buenos Aires and will remain there permanently.
2. The Soviet Embassy in Buenos Aires is able, through Communist connections in the Argentine government, to secure visas for the Slav Communists in the southern Paraguayan area.
3. The Buenos Aires Russian language Communist newspaper Nash Golos (Our Voice) continues to enter Paraguay from Posadas, Argentina, although its distribution is legally prohibited in Paraguay.
